CALLS FOR BRITISH FILMS TO COMPETE

"Old Glory" Dominates the Screen in Remote Parts of Earth

London, July 29.—"It is through the cinema that the nations of the world will get to understand each other; the cinema will be a tremendous power in cementing the projected league of nations which is to maintain a world peace," declares a writer in the London Evening News, urging that British motion picture manufacturers should best themselves to overcome American "domination" of the market. Calling attention to the powerful influence of the screen in affecting the thought of the public, the writer further demands that the government, possibly through the Colonial Office should assist in pushing British films on the market of the empire and see that the "heart of England is not American."

"Ninety per cent of the ideals and sentiments emanating from British screens is American," the writer continues, according to a copy of the article transmitted in official dispatches to the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce. "We shouldn't grumble. I am sure, if 10 per cent of the ideals and 1 per cent of the sentiment shown in American screens were British. But they are not. American ideals and sentiments dominate the screens of the whole world."

"The British dominions, as far as the cinema is concerned, are in the hands of the cinema 'kings' of the United States, some of them of German origin, but as keen Americans as any to see the Stars and Stripes flutter on the screens of the world. There are few pictures nowadays in which 'Old Glory' does not get a look-in."

"Americanization of the world through the moving picture has been going on for the past four years. American ideals, the American flag, railway stock, motor cars, police uniforms flood the screens. To the people of the British empire, the greatest men of all time are George Washington and Abraham Lincoln. Nelson, Drake and Wellington have no place on the screen."

"Grand pictures are almost wholly made in America, the writer asserts. Not only will have none of British pictures, except topical films, and there also is no market for the British product in New Zealand. India is the one 'bright spot' in the empire where British films are welcomed."

"Let us have some reciprocity with America," the article concludes. "Let us exchange our pictures and learn of one another. It is that or the Americanization of Germanization of the world through the cinema. And it is going to have a big effect."

NEW YORK-NORFOLK CANAL

Advantage of such a Waterway Recommended to Government

Washington, July 26.—Many lives and much property would be saved by an inland waterway from New York to Hampton Roads for eastwise shipping. Secretary Redfield said today in a letter to the board of river and harbor engineers, which is considering the advisability of the government purchase of the Cape Cod canal.

In the last ten years, Mr. Redfield wrote, 171 lives and property valued at $1,000,000 have been lost by reason of storms wrecking coastwise shipping. He added that the inside route would protect shipping from submarines.

Copies of the letter were sent to Senator Saulsbury, who recently introduced a resolution calling on the secretary for information as to the advisability of buying the Cape Cod, Chesapeake and Delaware and Raritan canals. The secretary said he had not progressed far enough with his investigation regarding the canals to advise regarding their purchase.

FIND MANY GERMAN DEAD

Americans Along Marne Make Gruesome Discovery

With the American Army on the Aisne-Marne Front July 29.—The American troops advancing along the Marne have discovered hundreds of dead Germans. The victims fell before the heavy machine gunfire of the Americans during the retreat. In one horse shoe area the ground was covered with dead. The Americans buried as many bodies as was possible. It is estimated that 2,000 Germans fell there.

Farmers along the Marne report having seen the bodies of German dead floating down the stream. The military authorities are planning some system by which they can clear the river of bodies.

Three days after the Germans evacuated Chateau-Thierry, the Americans found a lone German in Mont St. Pere, hiding in a cellar. The prisoner said he was tired of war and was determined to secret himself, notwithstanding the fact that he had no food, and later take a chance by surrendering to the Allies. He asserted that the German soldiers were dissatisfied with the way affairs were going and that the general opinion among them was that the Crown Prince was unable to bring sufficient reinforcements or food supplies to the Germans being attacked from the south.

The American soldiers watched with pleasure the prisoner appease his appetite after his three days' fast. The German requested the Americans not to report his desertion, saying if they did and he ever got back to Germany he would be shot.

HEIR OF ROMANOFF'S A BRITISH OFFICER

London, July 29.—The former Grand Duke Dmitri Paplovitch, cousin of the late Russian emperor, has just been appointed an honorary captain in the British army. Dmitri, according to the Daily Telegraph, was present at the famous supper at the palace of Prince Youssouppoff, in Petrograd, which resulted in the death of the Priest Rasputin. He was arrested on the order of the Russian empress and banished to the Persian front. Dmitri owes his personal safety to the fact that he was on the Persian front when the revolution broke out.

The Daily Express says that if the report of the death of the former heir-apparent, Alexis, is true, Dmitri is heir to the Russian throne as the sons of Grand Duke Vladimir Alexandrovitch lost their right to succession some years ago.

VON BUELOW'S NEPHEW

Surprised to Learn Over 1,000,000 Americans in France

Paris, July 26.—Among the prisoners captured in the Aisne-Marne battle was a nephew of Prince von Buelow, the former German imperial chancellor. The officer, who was a battalion commander, was astonished to hear that there was a large American army in France. He said he had been convinced, as had all Germans, that the American soldiers in France did not exceed 50,000.

Among the heroes decorated by President Poincare in his present visit to the battle zone was a nephew of Premier Clemenceau.

OFFICE BOY WAS READY FOR BIG JOB

New York, July 29.—Into the office of the Wall Street Journal there ventured a small boy, awed by the great adventure of getting his first job. Timidly he approached an editor and explained what he wanted.

"I'm," quoth the veteran to the would-be recruit. "It's too bad, but there are no vacancies now, unless you would like to be managing editor. How about that?"

The youngster began to back away. "Oh," he gasped, "I wouldn't like that at all."

On the following day he came back with desperation in his eye, and marched up to the veteran. "I've changed my mind," he announced, "When do I start in?"
